Trey Elizondo notes that FFA has helped him grow as an individual, team member and servant leader.

"My objective as a leader is to point people in the direction of premier leadership, personal growth and career success," Elizondo says. "I want to show my fellow members that obstacles do not equal finality, but instead provide an opportunity for growth. My role as a national officer is about guiding FFA members in the direction of what this organization stands for."

Elizondo was elected to the 2016-17 National FFA Officer Team as western region vice president at the 89th National FFA Convention & Expo.

Majoring in agricultural education at Texas A&M University, Elizondo is involved with the John 15 Catholic Freshman Leadership Experience, Camp Quality Texas, Connect Retreat, F.A.S.T. (Future Ag Science Teachers) and Saddle & Sirloin. During high school, he served as Yoakum FFA Vice President (2013-14), LaBahia District Treasurer (2013-14), Yoakum FFA President (2014-15) and Area X Association Vice President (2014-15).

For his supervised agricultural experience, he raised market steers to be shown at the chapter show and major stock shows through the state. His objective was to make a placing sale with his projects and use the money earned to pursue his degree at Texas A&M.

Upon graduating from college, Elizondo plans to pursue a career as an agricultural education teacher and eventually within leadership development for the Texas FFA Association.
